

APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF WRITING CREDIT

Writing credit is awarded as an incentive for attorneys to write on legal subjects of interest to and benefit of the legal profession. To be eligible for credit, a writing must be published or accepted for publication by a professional book publishing company/agency or a professional law journal. [NOTE: A professional book publishing company or agency includes the South Carolina Bar.]

1. Attorney's Name _____
2. Title of Article/Book _____
3. I have attached a copy of the Article/Book. Yes ___ No ___
4. Professional book publishing company or professional law journal that has published or accepted your Article/Book for publication. _____
5. Number of words of text in Article/Book. _____
6. Is this an original Article/Book or is it a rewrite or revision? Original ___ Rewrite/Revision ___
[NOTE: If a rewrite or revision, enclose copy of BOTH original and rewrite/revision.]
7. Did you (or your firm, company, etc.) receive payment/honorarium for writing this Article/Book?
Yes ___ No ___
8. If your answer to question 7 is YES, how much were you paid? _____
9. Do you expect to receive additional payment or royalties in the future? Yes ___ No ___
10. Was this Article/Book prepared by you without assistance? Yes ___ No ___
11. If your answer to question 10 is NO, who assisted you in writing the Article/Book? _____

12. Will those who assisted in writing the Article/Book be seeking writing credit? Yes ___ No ___
13. Submitted by: Signature: _____ Date: _____
Printed Name: _____ SCBar No. _____
Street/PO Box _____ Phone No. _____
City/State/Zip _____

FOR COMMISSION USE ONLY

Approved: _____ Total Writing Credit: _____
Denied: _____ Credited to Current Year: _____
Credited to Future Year: _____

Reason(s) for Denial: _____

Restrictions on Writing Credit

Writing credit of 2.00 hours mandatory CLE credit for each 2,000 words of original text (maximum 20.0 hours credit) will NOT be approved if any of the following apply:

- (a) Article/Book was less than 2,000 words in length;
- (b) Article/Book was neither published by nor accepted for publication by a professional book publication company or professional law journal;
- (c) Article/Book is a rewrite/revision and in the Commission's judgment, the rewrite or revision was not "substantial;"
- (d) Applicant's assistance in the writing of Article/Book did not contribute substantially to the Article/Book;
- (e) Applicant (or company, firm, etc.) received, or will receive in the future, payment or honorarium for the Article/Book of more than $500.00;
- (f) Article/Book was any part of a publication sponsored by the applicant's firm, company, etc.; or
- (g) Application was not submitted within 1 year of date Article/Book was published.

In cases in which more than one attorney contributes substantially to the writing of the Article/Book, credit will be apportioned among all who assisted in the writing.

Writing credit for rewrites/revisions is not authorized unless the rewrite/revision is "substantial." [NOTE: The Commission's decision on whether a rewrite/revision is "substantial" is final.]